FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

THE 2026-2027 U15 CANADIAN PROSPECT TEAM WILL COMPRISE 22 OF CANADA'S TOP YOUNG PLAYERS

The cohort consists of 12 girls and 10 boys born between 2013 and 2015

[TORONTO, ON] October 22, 2026 – Tennis Canada has announced the 2026-2027 U15 Canadian Prospect Team, bringing together 12 girls and 10 boys to support their development as they progress through the competitive pathway.

“We’re pleased to see the U15 Canadian Prospect Team program continuing to deliver results and help players take the next step in their development,” said Jocelyn Robichaud, Head of U15 Development at Tennis Canada. “We’re excited to welcome new faces to this year’s group and seeing program graduates progress to our Regional Training Centres and National Tennis Centre, as well as represent Canada at international competitions. It’s a testament to the program’s impact, and we remain committed to helping Canada’s top young players reach their full potential.”

Now in its fourth year, the program provides selected athletes with access to national training camps, individualized performance assessments and additional opportunities to compete internationally. Tennis Canada works in collaboration with private coaches, academies, Regional Training Centres and Provincial and Territorial Tennis Associations (PTTAs) to help players reach their goals.

The first round of camps began this week in Toronto for boys born in 2013 and 2014, followed by girls in the same age groups in Montreal next week, and a combined camp for 2015-born players in Toronto in early November.
